What is a Vibrational Assessment

A Vibrational Assessment is a report that you receive providing you with a great deal of information regarding the readings of the vibrations as to what is happening within you and around you.

Everything has a vibration including each physical organ, system, chemical and electronic systems. Every emotion has its own vibration. Every part of nature has its own vibration. E.g. A tree will have different vibrations for leaves, stems, bark, roots etc. And if you took readings of this tree in the morning and afternoon you would see different rates of vibration depending on the time of day, hours of sun, etc.

How Do I Conduct Vibrational Assessments?

To conduct a Vibrational Assessment, I need your full name, including middle names, your date of birth and your home address. I use this information to find your energy and to do the readings. I have conducted Vibrational Assessments for over 20 years for individuals in the US, Asia, Africa, all around the world.

I am deeply intuitive, I am also an experienced dowser. My work is always done with loving and healing energies.

For each reading I show you on a scale of 1-10 the degree of difficulty with 10 being most difficult and a zero or blank meaning I do not see any difficulty there.

The Types of Information in a Vibrational Assessment

For physical elements, you will find out if you have the vibrations of viruses, parasites, worms, infectious bacteria, candida, mould, chemical and metal toxins, and major organs and systems.

You will be given readings on the degree of vibration for vitamins and minerals required for optimum health.

There is a major section on food sensitivities. The composition of our food today is very different from what was grown 20 years ago. People with chemical sensitivities have great difficulty digesting many foods that are grown around the world. If infected with viruses, parasites and worms, your body chemistry can change creating food sensitivities. This section will give you readings, on major grains, gluten, dairy products, sugars, honey and maple syrup, fruits and berries, nuts, major vegetables, main types of meat, fish and shellfish, herbs, seeds, and caffeine.

Three small sections identify if you have negative energies affecting you and your home. They give general information on your auras and chakras.

There is a major section on your emotional states. Emotions can cause disease and healing. E.g. laughter creates healing, and creates disease. It's important for you to know which emotions are difficult for you and the degree of difficulty.

Recommendations to Eliminate Viruses, Parasites and Worms

At the end of the Vibrational Assessment I provide you with recommendations for the first 6 weeks of the elimination program.

I make vibrational medicines called Choming Essences and Tree and Herbal Tinctures. I make these energetically from gems, crystals, organic trees and herbs. You cannot purchase in any store the quality of an essence or tincture that I make by hand.

By taking Choming Essences and Tinctures you slowly raise the vibrations of your organs and systems. Viruses, parasites and worms cannot live in a high vibration. The essences and tinctures will eliminate these invaders so you can flush them out of your body. It's a slow healing because vibrations of your organs and systems must be raised slowly but it truly works.

Conclusion

Healing with vibration is a deep and powerful way of healing, and a way that actually works. The Universe has included worms and parasites in its natural environment on Mother Earth. She has also provided us with the elements from nature to keep our food and our water healthy for human consumption, so that we have a high energy level and live our lives to the fullest.
